Admission Deadlines

First Year Early Action	1 November
First Year Regular Decision	15 January
Transfer Application	1 April

Admission Requirements

Providence College is a member of the Common Application Group. You may obtain the Common Application online at www.commonapp.org, or you can email the Office of Admission at pcadmiss@providence.edu to have it mailed to you. The Common Application, the Providence College Supplemental Form, official transcripts, and test results must be submitted to the Office of Admission by the above-mentioned deadlines. Transcripts not in English must be accompanied by a certified English translation. International students must satisfy identical entrance requirements and adhere to the same application procedures outlined for other freshman candidates.

Please note: Always use your full legal name in all your documents and tests. This will prevent future problems, especially at the time of issuing visas. Also, if you use a post office address for your mail, we ask, if possible, that you provide your home address as well. We may need to use FedEx, UPS, or DHL to mail items directly to your home.

TOEFL or IELTS

English is the language of instruction at Providence College. You must be able to understand English and express yourself clearly in speech and writing. Students whose native language is not English must take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). Minimum scores: 550 (PBT), 213 (CBT), or 80 (iBT). You can check the TOEFL website at www.toefl.org for testing information. Providence College's CEEB/TOEFL code is 3693.

The International English Language Test System (IELTS) may be taken as an alternative to the TOEFL. Minimum score: 7.0. You can check the IELTS website at www.ielts.org for testing information.

SAT Reasoning Test / ACT Scores

Submission of standardized test scores (SAT or ACT) will be optional for students applying for admission beginning with the Class of 2011 (September 2007 entry). This policy change allows students to decide whether they wish to have their standardized test results considered as part of their application for admission. Additional details and FAQs about the policy can be found at www.providence.edu/Admission/Undergraduate/Test+Optional.

SAT SUBJECT TESTS are not required for admission. The Committee on Admission recommends that if you take any Subject Test for institutions requiring them, please forward the scores to us as well, especially those scores in appropriate areas in which you plan to study in college.

Climate and Clothing Consideration

Autumn/Spring: Light to medium weight clothing: jeans/long pants, shirts/pullovers.

Winter: Very warm clothing: boots, head covering and gloves for snow and cold.

International Students Certification of Finances Form

Since need-based financial aid is not available to international students who are not U.S. citizens, the International Students Certification of Finances Form will be sent to you with your acceptance to the college. Its purpose is to indicate your ability to cover all your educational, personal, and travel expenses. It should include the stamp of your bank and the signature of a bank official. Please mail it to the Office of Admission with all your other documents. A copy of the form can be found at www.providence.edu/net/iscf-form.pdf.

International students are eligible for academic merit scholarships. Applications from students with outstanding academic credentials will be referred to the Scholarship Committee for consideration. International students seeking financial assistance are also encouraged to contact local or international agencies in their home country.

Since we are dealing with international mail systems, it is wise that you make and save photocopies of all your documents in case the first set is lost in the mail.

Providence College recognizes the International Baccalaureate and grants course-credit and/or advanced placement. Evaluation is made by the Office of Dean of Undergraduate Studies on an individual basis.
